What does the UGPN Mean for the University of São Paulo?

USP International Agenda

Internationalization as an strategy to achieve fundamental institutional goals:

Enhance student learning outcomes

Enhance the international competence and experience of faculty and staff

Enhance the quality of research and increase knowledge production

Strength international dimensions of the curriculum

Global level engagement

USP's participation on UGPN fits completely to our fundamental institutional goals, through providing opportunities to students education and mobility, as well as mutual collaboration in research

How are the UGPN actions implemented across University of São Paulo?

1. From 2012 to 2022 the Research Collaboration Funds provided support to 55 projects approved in 11 annual calls
2. 27 Unities from USP were engaged, therefore promoting study abroad opportunities and clear gains to their faculty members
