

Located in the Paraíba River Valley, the town is almost equidistant from São Paulo and Rio de Janeiro and has excellent transport links. Its population is around 88,000 people*, out of which approximately 5,000 are students. After a period of predominant coffee production and livestock-related activities, Lorena has become industrialized and has taken its place as one of the Valley's most important economic centers. In this town where technology blends with history, Universidade de São Paulo has found a fertile terrain for education and research.
